

Consulting Service

Spiritual Mentoring and Personal Consulting

Mary Alice Isleib offers Isleib Consulting Services, a private practice providing spiritual mentoring and personal consulting services. The majority of the service is offered over the phone.

Sessions are a combination of healing prayer, emotional wholeness concepts, pastoral counseling and leadership/mentoring training as needed. Sessions are handled professionally and offer personal pastoral care with trustworthiness and integrity.

The practice is based on a biblical worldview and is for those who believe they need a session on a weekly or monthly basis. Ms. Isleib is an ordained minister with pastoral/ministerial experience since 1983. She is well studied and current on emotional wholeness issues; although, she is not a licensed therapist.

The 30-minute sessions are fee based and insurance is not applicable. Payment is due prior to the session start and after your confirmation call. Ms. Isleib will also see clients when she is out for a speaking engagement, but only with a prior confirmation and consultation.

Clients consist of adults, couples and anyone involved in ministry work (especially women). Referrals are accepted.

All sessions are handled with the strictest standard of confidentiality and Ms. Isleib provides a safe atmosphere where you can receive what you are needing, spiritually and emotionally.
