One of the best ways of learning how to pray is to learn from someone that has been where you are; gone through the struggles, the unknowns, and "up's and down's" of prayer. A teacher should be someone who can not only teach you verbally, but can also demonstrate how to participate. It is fresh because they have done it before and are currently active in what they teach.

Mary Alice Isleib is considered by many leaders in the Body of Christ to be a cutting edge teacher of Biblical Prayer. Her bestselling book Effective Fervent Prayer is in 14 languages, and is used in Bible Schools and churches world wide as a teaching tool and study guide. Thousands have learned how to pray in her prayer schools. Many churches have received notable breakthroughs. The effects of her teaching and impartation are known to be long lasting and effective. You can experience this wealth of practical day to day knowledge of effective prayer.
